Secretary-General's bulletin

To: Members of the staff

From: The Secretary-General

Subject: Management of conferences and events of the International Seabed Authority held at the Jamaica Conference Centre

I. Introduction

1. To ensure the effective functioning and management of all conferences and events of the International Seabed Authority without interference of any kind and to create a work environment that is safe, professional and of mutual trust where diversity and inclusion are valued and everyone is entitled to be treated with courtesy and respect, the Secretary-General promulgates the present bulletin on the management of conferences and events of the Authority held at the Jamaica Conference Centre.

II. Purpose

2. The secretariat of the Authority strives to ensure the most effective functioning of all conferences and events of the Authority, in particular the meetings of the annual session of the Authority held at the Jamaica Conference Centre, and provides for the safety and security of all participants, including delegates, staff members, representatives of non-governmental organizations and other participants admitted to the conferences and events.

3. The number of conferences and events of the Authority has continued to increase in recent years, notably including the meetings of the Council, which have been held in three parts since 2022. The number of participants at the meetings of the Authority has also substantially increased, leading to the need to manage more complex conferences and events.

4. In order for the conferences and events of the Authority to achieve their objectives, it is not only the organizers – in particular the security element – who need to contribute; all participants are required to adhere to the highest standards of conduct and comply with all applicable rules, regulations and policies of the Authority and instructions issued by the officials and security officers of the Authority intended to ensure the safety and security of all and the smooth functioning of the conferences and events. The compliance of all participants with applicable rules, regulations and policies and safety instructions is an essential part of the success of any of the conferences and events of the Authority.

5. In this context, it is necessary for the Authority to promulgate the present bulletin, setting out established policy on the management of conferences and events held at the Jamaica Conference Centre, in line with the best practices of the United Nations and other intergovernmental organizations concerning the management of conferences and events.

III. Status of the Jamaica Conference Centre

6. The Jamaica Conference Centre, including its conference rooms and other areas, is made available to the Authority by the Government of Jamaica, as the host country of the Authority, for the purpose of holding meetings, conferences, consultations, scheduled programmes and any other activities related to the functions of the Authority. When so used by the Authority, the Jamaica Conference Centre is considered part of the headquarters of the Authority. It is the responsibility of the Secretary-General, in conjunction with the competent authorities of the host Government, to ensure the safety and security of the staff of the secretariat, delegates of Member States and all other persons participating in the conferences and events of the Authority.

IV. Applicability

7. The present bulletin is applicable to all participants of any conference or event organized by the Authority at the Jamaica Conference Centre. It supplements, and does not affect, the application of other relevant rules, regulations and policies of the Authority and the Headquarters Agreement, as well as applicable laws of Jamaica.

8. By registering to attend a conference or event of the Authority held at the Jamaica Conference Centre, participants acknowledge the contents of the present bulletin and agree to its terms and conditions. It is incumbent on participants to comply with all the rules and instructions intended to protect their safety and ensure the effective functioning of the conferences and events of the Authority.

V. Access to conferences and events of the Authority

9. Access to the Jamaica Conference Centre for the purpose of conferences and events of the Authority will be granted only to participants who have been duly accredited by the secretariat through the issuance of relevant badges.

10. In the interests of the security and safety of all participants, the secretariat reserves the right to deny or restrict access to the Jamaica Conference Centre to any individual or to request an accredited participant to leave the Jamaica Conference Centre.

11. Access rights can be revoked by the secretariat. A person may be removed from or denied access to the Jamaica Conference Centre for any of the following reasons:

(a) If that person refuses to comply with the present bulletin and other applicable rules, regulations and policies of the Authority;

(b) If that person refuses to comply with any request or instruction, either oral or in writing, from the officials or security officers of the Authority made within their authority;

(c) If that person has committed a crime or there is reason to believe that the person will commit a crime within the Jamaica Conference Centre.

12. All persons entering the Jamaica Conference Centre are required to wear a badge issued by the secretariat and ensure that the badge is visible at all times while they are within the Jamaica Conference Centre. The secretariat may restrict access to areas considered critical or sensitive or to reserved or closed conferences and events. The badges are the property of the Authority, non-transferable and valid only for the period indicated on them and must be surrendered if a participant is requested to do so by the secretariat. Participants must not reuse badges issued to them for a previous meeting conference or event. If a participant loses a badge, the participant must report the loss immediately to the security officers of the secretariat. Any badge found must be returned to security officers immediately so that the necessary actions can be taken.

13. Participants should be prepared to verify their identity upon the request of any official or security officer of the Authority.

VI. Safety and security

14. Participants in conferences and events of the Authority held at the Jamaica Conference Centre shall comply with the requirements of the present bulletin and any other safety and security policies issued by the secretariat, as well as any requests and instructions, either oral or in writing, from the officials and security officers of the Authority regarding access to and use of facilities, and conduct of official business, within the Jamaica Conference Centre. Refusal to comply may result in removal from or denial of access to the Jamaica Conference Centre, or other appropriate measures by the competent authorities of the host country.

15. No participant should harass or threaten any other participants or any staff of the secretariat or use methods of intimidation to dissuade or deflect from the participant's actions in contravention of the requirements of the present bulletin. Any disruptive acts during conferences or events of the Authority or directed against any staff of the secretariat may result in appropriate action being taken by the secretariat or the competent authorities of the host country.

16. Participants are expected to uphold the most courteous approach possible while at the Jamaica Conference Centre. Acts of any form of harassment and any threatening statements or gestures are prohibited within the Jamaica Conference Centre.

17. Interfering with the movement of any participant, at any point of time or location, within the Jamaica Conference Centre is not permitted. Creating an environment that generates potential safety concerns is also prohibited.
